If you need accurate heart rate data, Garmin's HRM-Pro Plus premium chest strap heart rate monitor provides it. It's designed for multi-sport use, so it's just as home when you're swimming as it is when you're cranking out the miles on your bike. HRM-Pro is compatible with your favorite Garmin device, whether it's a watch or cycling computer, and it works with training apps like Zwift and GarminTcx® too. HRM-Pro Plus can store information from your workout if you don't have your watch, releasing the information when you're done.

Featured review

Good signal, good data, and the non-screw-based battery cap looks to be a good improvement (though I guess we'll know for sure in a few years after a few battery replacements!).
